This is a great venue to promote your product or services to leaders in grantsmanship. AAGP conferences have gained a reputation as a comprehensive educational and professional growth event for those committed to excellence in the practice of grant development and management. A national audience of 600+ grant professionals and decision makers are anticipated to attend. Being a sponsor sends a message of support for grant professionals, the nonprofit organizations they represent, and their economic and social services impact on local communities. How you can benefit: Sponsorship provides your company with distinct marketing advantages: Reach decision makers in the nonprofit community, Enhance business image and consumer attitudes, Create positive publicity and generate media coverage. As a sponsor and exhibitor, you receive exposure for participation in the AAGP 2010 National Conference before, during, and after the event through print and media advertising, web listing, email marketing, exhibition table space, program book and day of conference on-site recognition. Specialty opportunities for sponsorship include: Conference bag sponsor, $7500 (your logo on the conference bag) Welcome reception sponsor with cash bar at $10,000, Welcome reception sponsor without cash bar at $14,000 Technology sponsor, $10,000 Education Sponsor for a workshop series, $10,000 Breakfast Meal, $2000 (3 available) Lunch, $4000 (2 available) Sponsor an individual workshop, $500 Exhibit your product or service, $1500, includes 2 registrations Provide a promotional item to insert in the conference bag, $750 Place an advertisement in the Conference Program, $65 to $500 Marketing opportunities range in costs and benefits from a $65 business card sized ad to a $20,000 Title sponsorship. Details on available conference participation opportunities can be found at www.grantprofessionals.org/annual-conference. If your organization interacts with any grant or resource development professional in the nonprofit world, we encourage you to participate as a sponsor, exhibitor, advertiser, or all three. A package to fit your budget and marketing needs is available. Sponsors from past conferences include local and national corporations, consultants, municipalities, educational institutions, career and professional specialists, software developers, grant and foundation resource centers, publishers, and those that provide and develop services and equipment utilized in the planning, development, and administration of resources by nonprofit organizations. About the event: Conference Headquarters for the 12th AAGP National Conference will be The Tradewinds Island Grand Resort and Conference Center located in St. Pete Beach, Florida. Fifty break-out sessions will cover latest trends and practices in grant professionalism and provide continuing education credits. Dates are November 3-6, 2010. Who is the AAGP: As a nonprofit membership association, AAGP supports an international community of grant professionals committed to serving the philanthropic community by practicing the highest ethical and professional standards. More AAGP information at: www.grantprofessionals.org Who is the GCTB: The GCTB is serving as the local host for the 2010 annual conference. Members consist of local Tampa Bay professionals whose primary job responsibilities include grant planning, proposal writing and/or resource development. The Broward Chapter of AAGP is pleased to feature Michael Wells, GPC, CFRE, presenting a one-day workshop to help improve the skills of both novice grantwriters and seasoned professionals.

- Reading financial statements and 990s
- Using the budget to support your narrative
- Choosing and working with an evaluator
- Creating logic models
- Approaching grants strategically

Michael Wells, GPC, CFRE, will also address today's changing grants environment, how to approach different kinds of grants (capital campaign, research, capacity building) and a brief introduction to the world of federal grants. Join us at Nova Southeastern University's H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship on Wednesday, July 21, 2010 from 8:00 am to 4:30 pm for an interactive presentation by one of the country's premier grant professionals. To apply this to your own work, you are invited to bring your organization's financial statement or 990 and a recent major grant proposal you've worked on.

About our presenter...

Michael Wells, GPC, CFRE is owner of the grantwriting firm Grants Northwest (www.grantsnorthwest.com), and has been consulting since 1987 helping dozens of nonprofit organizations to raise over $100 million. Michael has a Masters degree in Humanities and teaches Grantwriting at Portland State University. He is a co-editor of the Grants and Foundation Review, a past board member of the American Association of Grant Professionals (AAGP) and the Grant Professionals Certification Institute (GPCI), and author of the Grantwriting Beyond the Basics series: Proven Strategies Professionals Use to Make Their Proposals Work; Understanding Nonprofit Finances; and Successful Program Evaluation.

 GiftWorks Presents a Free Webinar for Nonprofit Organizations The Development Plan—The Foundation of Success by Linda Lysakowski, ACFRE, and CEO of Capital Venture Thursday, December 10, 2009 12:00p.m. – 1:30 p.m. EST Reserve your Webinar seat now at: <https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/694495584> You are invited to a free GiftWorks Webinar to learn from a pro how to make sure your Development Plan gets implemented, excites leadership, and leads to measurable fundraising success.

Join author and philanthropic consultant Linda Lysakowski, ACFRE, and start the new year committed to fundraising beyond special events and grants and get your board members motivated to take on their fundraising responsibilities! Through the webinar, participants will learn the 4 W's of a successful plan: What makes a good plan, Why do it, Who to involve, and How to get started. The session closes with a lesson on how to evaluate the success of your plan—and do it better next year! The reason for a webinar on the Development Plan? Linda says: "So many nonprofits don't have a written development as part of their organization's strategic plan! I was recently giving a class in Atlantic City and asked participants how many had a strategic plan—about 20 hands went up. I then asked how many had a development plan—only 3 hands rose. Especially in small to medium sized organizations, either there is no written development plan or the plan that exists is very focused on one thing—like special events or grant-writing. It's not a plan for the overall picture of the total fundraising effort."

In sixteen years as a philanthropic consultant Linda Lysakowski, CEO of Capital Venture, has managed capital campaigns; helped dozens of nonprofits achieve their development goals; and trained more than 15,000 professionals in North America and Egypt in all aspects of development. Linda is one of fewer than one hundred professionals worldwide to hold the Advanced Certified Fund Raising Executive designation.

Long involved with the Association of Fundraising Professionals and its Foundation for Philanthropy, she is the author of Recruiting and Training Fundraising Volunteers (2005), The Development Plan (2007), contributor to The Fundraising Feasibility Study (2007) and co-author of The Essential Nonprofit Fundraising Handbook (2009).

Webinar leader Linda Lysakowski is the author of Recruiting and Training Fundraising Volunteers (2005), The Development Plan The Fundraising Feasibility Study (2007) and co-author of The Essential Nonprofit Fundraising Handbook (2009). (2007), contributor to Linda's business, Capital Venture, provides fundraising counsel, specializing in innovative training and consulting services for nonprofit organizations of focuses on capital campaigns, in particular for smaller organizations without a large development staff. "Our goal at CAPITAL VENTURE is to help organizations determine how much time, effort and personnel they should risk ("venture") in order to build their wealth ("capital"). We focus on training and education and help nonprofits access the tools of the trade. Ultimately, we want to help nonprofits reach a state of excellence in their fundraising efforts," Linda concludes.

RECEPTION AND TALK WITH ARTIST MICHELE OKA DONER
at the Art and Culture Center of Hollywood

Hollywood, Fla. – Internationally known artist Michele Oka Doner will discuss her art as well as mingle with attendees during a reception and artist talk at the Art and Culture Center of Hollywood on Wednesday, Oct. 14. Taking place from 6 to 9 p.m., this special event is part of the "Natural Forces: Broward County Public Art & Design" exhibition, which is on display now through Sunday, Nov. 1 at the Center. Admission to the reception is free for ACCH members and $10 for non-members.

Oka Doner uses nature at its most basic level, creating that the subject of her art. Her presentation will focus on her public art projects, sculpture, jewelry, furniture, and design objects. She will also discuss her newly completed public art project, her largest bronze cast sculptural element to date, exhibited at Port Everglades.

"Natural Forces" is a compilation of completed public art projects by national and internationally known artists, including Oka Doner. The exhibition is a compilation of completed public art projects by national and internationally renowned artists who were selected and commissioned to create public art through Broward Cultural Division's Public Art & Design Program. ACCH will exhibit drawings, models and other preparatory works done for these commissions, thus revealing important aspects of the creative process. Video documentaries and photographs will highlight how these large-scale artworks interface with the public.

Gallery hours are from Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 12 to 4 p.m. The Center is located at 1650 Harrison St., and free parking is available. The Art and Culture Center of Hollywood presents contemporary gallery exhibitions, live stage performances and high-quality education programs for adults and children. The Center fosters a creative environment where new and challenging work can flourish through programs that reflect the highest standards of artistry and diversity. To learn more, call 954.921.3274 or visit www.ArtandCultureCenter.org.

Funding for the Art and Culture Center of Hollywood's 09/10 visual art season is provided in part by Francie Bishop Good and David Horvitz, and a grant from Funding Arts Broward. The Art and Culture Center of Hollywood is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization supported in part by its members, admissions, private entities, the City of Hollywood, and the Broward County Board of County Commissioners as recommended by the Broward Cultural Council. We welcome donations from all members of the community who wish to support our work.

CREDIT COUNSELING SERVICES FOR ELIGIBLE RESIDENTS

The City of Orlando is seeking partnerships with experienced, local not for profit housing agencies to provide the following: (1) housing counseling services to current and future city residents, and/or (2) credit counseling via the creation of homebuyer clubs to city residents who need to improve their credit to become mortgage ready or need to restore their credit after a foreclosure.

a. Eligible Activities:

Housing Counseling Program: Pre-purchase

Group sessions: Provide pre-purchase housing counseling to eligible households who are current residents of the City of Orlando or have a purchase contract to purchase a property in the city.

One-on-One Counseling Sessions: In addition to the group sessions, provide pre-purchase one-on-one housing counseling and cover the following:

- Budgeting and saving strategies
 - Credit management and repair
 - Recognizing and avoiding abusive lending practices
 - Basic financial services and asset building programs
 - Homeowner's responsibilities
- Pre-purchase counseling must consist of a minimum of 6 hours distributed between attending one (1) group session, and one (1) or more, one-on-one counseling session(s).

The income of the assisted households must be at or below eighty (80%) percent of the area median income – maximum up to $49,050 for a family of four.

The Housing and Community Development Department requires the program to include day, evening, and some Saturday sessions to accommodate program participant's availability.

Housing Counseling Program: Foreclosure Prevention

One-on-One Counseling Sessions: Provide one-on-one housing counseling services to individuals who own a home and are facing foreclosure in the City of Orlando.

The income of the assisted households must be at or below eighty (80%) percent of the area median income – maximum up to $49,050 for a family of four.

The Housing and Community Development Department requires the program to include day, evening, and some Saturday sessions to accommodate program participant's availability.

Homebuyer & Credit Counseling Club

Provide comprehensive educational programs and peer support groups for very low and low income residents of the City of Orlando to improve their credit and prepare them for the home buyer process or to restore their credit after a foreclosure.

The length of the program may be from a few months to two years depending on the extent of the participants' credit issues. At a minimum, the proposed program shall address the following topics:

- Credit analysis
 - Credit coaching
 - Debt reduction
 - Establishing positive credit
 - Personal budgeting
 - Money management skills and strategies
 - Checking accounts
 - Finding a home
 - Types of homeownership
 - Applying for a mortgage
- The income of the assisted households must be at or below eighty (80%) percent of the area median income – maximum up to $49,050 for a family of four.

The Housing and Community Development Department requires the program to include day, evening, and some Saturday sessions to accommodate program participant's availability.

Conference Theme - Ideas Exchange 2009

Where does the community, be it business, government or nonprofit, communicate best practices and reveal its hard won experiences and knowledge? At the Ideas Exchange! Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4-5, 2009. Stimulate & Nonprofits have been stimulating our communities for one hundred years in Florida by bringing in resources, funds, and volunteer workforces; by advocating for safety net services; by using the arts to stimulate our souls; and through environmental crusaders who push for new policies for a better Florida. All this at the Ideas Exchange. Sustain & Short term ingenuity is needed to keep our long term relationships and resources solid. Today's new resources must be used effectively to work for us in the long run. Our future depends on it. Sanely - Humor helps addressing the day to day and mollifies you as you do what you can do in a day. Time is an issue… we are all working three times as hard for half the response. So, take time to develop yourself, take time to learn, take time to meet new people. Attend the Ideas Exchange and put some Humor and Sanity back in your life. Survive & Survival is a temporary mode and we will be stronger once we get through it. It is part of a strengthening process. It is not that everything is falling apart but that everything is new and we need to find the path. Now short term decisions must be made and new opportunities explored. We expected growth and development, but now we will train for survival at the Ideas Exchange.
